FROM THE OLD WORLD.

Interesting Correspondence from Dr. A. H. Scott.

Correspondence of the Democrat.

KILLARNEY, IRELAND, Saturday, May 29, 1886.

I landed last night at Queens town, Ireland, from which place I telegraphed home, announcing my "safe arrival" across the billowy blue sea. I am now as you see at Killarney, having passed on my way down to this place the famous and historically noted old Blarney Castle, stopping by the way a short time in Cork. It has been so very cold with rain and sleet here, that I have not been enabled to visit the noted lakes of Killarney, but hope to do so in the morning if possible, and the next day wend my way to Dublin or perhaps Belfast, and then cross over to Scotland, the home of Wm. Wallace, Robert Bruce and many other noble highland chiefs and valiant men who fought and bled for freedom's cause and human rights.

I am beginning to fear I shall not be permitted to go down into Italy as cholera is said to be there and quarantine may be established. I will know better however when I get to Paris, in France. The country through which I have passed to-day is all appearances in architecture a very old one and but little given to agriculture. The buildings are of stone many of them with thatched roofs. Grazing stock and making butter is one of the principal pursuits of the people. I have seen some of the finest looking milch cows I think I ever beheld. The soil is covered with a beautiful mossy green verdure and may it be truthfully called the "Green emerald Isle."

This is Saturday and is a kind of market day here. Potatoes and a few cabbage plants, hay and a few other commodities constitute the main articles of marketing. I saw many carts loaded with turf which I thought was at first another article and intended to be used for fertilizing purposes but upon enquiry was informed that it was intended and used as fuel. I am recovering quite rapidly from my sea sickness. The cooking and the diet does not agree with me at all and I long for a good square wholesome meal such as my wife and our cook Mary know so well how to provide at home. I do, I must say, dread the ocean trip going back home, I was so very sick as I came over. I am expecting some of the party to-night who crossed over with me, some of whom are from Pennsylvania, South Carolina and other places in the U. S. We became separated at Cork. The mode of travel here by railway differs materially from ours, their cars open on the side into little compartments, and you never know who is aboard, as you are locked up in them, and there is no getting out until you come to a station. I will write a few more lines in the morning.

VICTORY HOTEL, ON LAKE KILLARNEY, IRELAND, May 30, 1886.

Another day has dawned upon me, and I can scarcely this morning express how good and happy I felt last night, when opening my valise and taking out a clean shirt and collar and ready to put on this morning, the pictures of my three darling children. If my wife's picture could only have been with them and for which I vainly searched all through my valise, my enjoyment and pleasure would have been much more greatly enhanced. I must confess (being a little homesick any way), I did not possess sufficient stoicism to keep my eyes dry when I looked at their dear sweet faces. Oh, it was an unexpected, unanticipated, and lovely treat, so thoughtfully and clandestinely planned, arranged and put up for me, as a surprise by my dear wife. I most sincerely bless and thank her for this memento of her love and affection for us all. This now is, and will be, until we meet again, the longest, and I trust may be the last separation we shall ever experience from each other while in this vale of tears--I long to see them indeed.

I had no idea or conception of the extreme want, and destitution of the poor people of Killarney and of those I have seen in the Emerald Isle. This is a very singularly and curiously constructed place, the streets upon either side are walled up with stone almost as high as our Arkansas penitentiary. The scenery of the lakes of Killarney are most beautiful and imposing. On yesterday evening the sun came out in all his splendor from under fitting clouds with a slight mist falling from them, creating a rainbow of the brightest hues I ever beheld, stretching the points of its beautiful variegated bow and arch across and away down into the Mulligatary Peaks, and Mangeron Mountains and cliffs. It was indeed a lovely sight. This is now Sunday morning, and as bright and beautiful as heart could desire overhead, but so cold, that I have to remain close to the fire to keep warm. I shall leave here to-morrow morning for Dublin, and remain there a day or so. From thence I shall go to London, England, via Holyhead, thereby avoiding as much of the Irish sea as possible. This country is under Marshal law, and great disturbances are anticipated as likely to result out of Gladstone's home bill, and I feel anxious to get over into England, to avoid the collisions which are likely to ensue therefrom. This country of Kerry, is perhaps as much if not more agitated and excited by it than perhaps any other county on the Island. I would like to be in Little Rock a moment to tell that genuine true hearted Irishman Chappy Houston, that I greatly desired to comply with his request in "kissing the Blarney stone" for him on yesterday, but could not quite accomplish it. I want to visit Ross Castle on the lakes to-day, if I can make up a party to do so. I have often thought of Mrs. L. L. Bay, a most estimable lady of Little Rock since I have been here around Killarney, because the place, lakes and hills, reminded me how pleasantly she often entertained her friends with her sweet voice in song, and especially that of "Killarney's Rocks and Rills." I must write to Dr. Will Halliburton of Little Rock to-day, to assure him that I am in Ireland, as he told me before I left, he did not believe I would make the trip, and that nothing short of a letter from me, bearing the Irish post mark, written and addressed to him, would convince him that I was in Irish soil. Nevertheless it is even so, and I can scarcely realize it myself, for it has been an anxiously desired wish for many years, to visit the old world now before me.

A. H. SCOTT.

DUBLIN, IRELAND, SHELBOURNE HOTEL, June 1st, 1886.

I arrived here last evening about 5:30 o'clock and have been visiting all day and have just now returned to my room. I went through Trinity college built in the year 1591 took in the Anatomical Rooms, Museum and a library containing 250,000 volumes. From thence I went to St. Patrick's Cathedral erected in the 12th century. It is 300 feet in length and beneath its floor Dean Swift is buried. From this Cathedral I went to Christ's Church Cathedral which is a long cruciform structure of very ancient architecture dating back to the 11th century. I visited the Tower the abode of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and was shown through all its parts and ramifications which are extremely gorgeous and fine as they are everywhere here belonging to the wealthy. I remarked to my traveling companions to-day that the utmost want, misery and destitution prevailed apparently among the very poor. While the wealthier population were luxuriating in all the comfort and splendor that riches and money could command. The incomes of some of these Lords is immense. No wonder that the poor of this down trodden peasantry groan under the burdens and exactions imposed upon them and long and pray for "Home Rule." After visiting this magnificent abode of regal splendor I took a drive through Phoenix Park and the Zoological Gardens. The Park itself is a nice drive. But the principal thing that attracted my attention was an Obelisk erected to the memory of Lord Wellington, England's great military chieftain and the conqueror of the indomitable Napoleon Bonaparte which is 205 feet high and costing it is said 200,000 pounds sterling.

I have been going continually ever since I landed at Queenstown and have made good use of my time so far. The truth is I am "chuck" full of this old Island and my note book already swelling in number of pages and memoranda for future reference regarding a country and nation who gave to the world such patriots and mighty intellects as a Curran, an Emmett, a Phillips, O'Connell and many other great and distinguished men whom I could mention were it necessary, reaching back to the period, when the Danes drenched her soil in Irish blood.

I shall leave this hotel this evening and go down and sleep on board the boat, and start for London in the morning at 7 o'clock and arrive there in the evening. I shall go to the Midland Grand Hotel, where I hope I shall find letters from home. It seems almost an age since I heard from any of my friends on the other side. The first thing with me on reaching a point is to look and enquire for letters and news. Will write again in a day or so. I have not yet discarded my sea legs. The grand old ship is apparently and seemingly to me, to be riding and pitching over the waves under me. For the present adieu.

"THE BACK-LOG."

In the issue of THE ARKANSAS TRAVELER dated July 31st, will appear the opening chapters of a new serial story by OPIE P. READ, entitled "THE BACK-LOG." This work is a novel to which the author has devoted the spare time of several years and we think that it will be pronounced by all readers the strongest in plot and in character, the most finished in literary construction, and altogether the most fascinating of any of Mr. READ's stories. "THE BACK-LOG" characters are drawn from life and the developments of the plot will show that the noted writer who says that "nothing new in plots can be conceived," makes a mistake "THE BACK-LOG" will be a valuable addition to American fiction and will doubtless receive a hearty welcome everywhere.

POOR KNOX, Dover tp., July 15.

Health tolerably good, crops promising, though cotton is small. Threshing wheat and oats the order of the day; hardly half a crop is made. We have Sabbath school every Sabbath at 9 o'clock. A debating society has been organized at our school house in district 49. Prof. B. A. Kuhn is teaching school with 25 pupils enrolled; everybody is pleased with him so far as I know. If you see Mr. H. R. with a smile on his face, you can guess what is the matter--it is a fine boy at his house. No wheel ticket in mine.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by J. W. Wells.

APPLETON, July 16.--Farmers are about through with their work, but are feeling blue on account of the drouth. Roasting ears, cotton blooms and bolls are plentiful. Several of our citizens are talking of moving away, and any one wishing to buy cheap land can be accommodated up here. We need another church and school house, and a cotton gin in our neighborhood. We organized a Sabbath school at Oak Grove on the 20th and it is a success. We had a S. S. picnic at New Bethel the 9th inst. We had speaking by Dee Montgomery, Prof. Mallett, Mr. Sibley and Rev. James F. Montgomery. Col. W. B. Young and others from Scottsville were with us. We are indebted to the Dover band for excellent music. Mr. T. J. Hollabaugh commenced school at Oak Grove on the 11th inst.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial, bottle free at J. W. Wells' Drug Store.

Correspondence of the Democrat.

Mr. Zion, July 15.--As I think I not out of place I wish to give the readers of the DEMOCRAT a few lines from Mt. Zion. Health is not very good. Farmers are done laying by corn and having had abundance of rain they are busy combating with Gen. Green, but the tug of war will soon be over for this year, corn and cotton looking well, oats being harvested with very light yield. The Mt. Zion school will commence its fall and winter term about the first of November with Prof. W. F. Montgomery in charge. The 4th inst., at our S. S. celebration I must say we had a glorious good time, we had good talking, good preaching, good dinner and plenty of it, and a big march in the morning and evening conducted by B. D. Hillis and Bro. Watkins, in fact we had a perfect jubilee. Your correspondent was one among the many who visited the picnic at Bolling Spring church, some 8 or 9 miles west of here and I must say they had the grandest time I ever saw to be out in the country. They had the brass band from Dover there, and the boys made things lively, and I acknowledge that Prof. J. M. Mallett gave the ablest Sunday school lecture I ever heard. There is some talk of having a picnic at this place or near here the last Saturday in this month and having the whisky question debated by Prof. Keith of Appleton, and J. E. McCool of Conway county, and if so, I earnestly urge every voter in the bounds of this place to be present, for if there is nothing done license will be voted without a doubt. I will close by asking everybody who is interested in the Cedar Creek grave yard to think about the condition of it and put your thinking into action.

Greater Than The Greatest.

THE LARGEST AND MOST PROSPEROUS BUSINESS ESTABLISHED IN THE SOUTH.

The fame and good done by the S. S. S. Company cannot be told in the limited space that we have, but suffering humanity has blessed the man that has given to them the means whereby their sufferings could be alleviated. Of all the patent medicines that have been offered to the public, none has ever received the substantial endorsement that this great medicine has. There is hardly a drug store in the United States that does not keep this great alleviator on its shelves. The first cause of the success of S. S. S. is its merits. For blood poison it is a remedy that never fails. It has routed disease, and victory in the shape of a huge fortune has been realized by the S. S. S. Company. Mothers have blessed it for the relief of their children. Augusta Chronicle, May 23, 1886.

Proceedings of the Township Association of Sunday Schools of Illinois Township held at Prairie Grove, July 8, 1886.

The Association was called to order by Lawrence Russell, Vice-President of Illinois Township, and the exercises opened with prayer by Rev. M. Oates. M. H. Baird was then elected secretary and Rev. T. F. Jones then formally opened the work of the Programme by reading the 19th Psalm--Singing "Close to Thee" and offering an earnest prayer for the work of the day. The following delegates were then enrolled, to-wit: From Prairie Grove Sabbath school Miss Clemmie Holmes, J. M. Sims and W. H. Gambin, Mountain View school Miss Mollie Bennett and R. M. Gambin, Mountain Springs J. M. Tucker, C. P. S. S. J. A. Miller, John A. Erwin, Misses Virgie Mann and Emma Bonds, Christian school J. S. Church, Baptist school Jeff Davis and Capt. W. M. Peeler, Bethel school Mrs. Corbishly, M. E. church south school W. L. Crow, Mrs. J. Arthur Erwin and Rev. S. S. Key, M. E. school G. A. Reed, Delphi school J. W. Shinn. The Association then requested the President to appoint a committee to procure homes for the delegates attending the County Association to be held at Russellville, commencing July 21, '86, and to further act as a reception committee assigning homes to said delegates etc. The following committee were appointed, viz: J. F. Munday chairman, James Robinson, John A. Erwin, Col. T. H. Elgin and H. N. Smade. The Association then proceeded to the election of an Organist and Chorister for the county meeting, which resulted in the election of Miss Virgie Mann as organist and J. A. Miller, chorister. The reports of schools were called for and all the schools of the township made their reports in writing to the Vice-President except New Hope school.

The work of the Programme was then taken up. The subject--"How many schools constitute a class" was called and presented by W. L. Crow, followed by J. A. Miller and Rev. S. S. Key.

"What are the duties of parents" was then presented at some length by W. M. Peeler, followed by Rev. S. S. Key, G. A. Reed, Rev. W. D. Moffit and W. C. Ludwick.

The Association then adjourned until 3 o'clock p. m. At 1 o'clock p. m. the schools that had been invited upon this occasion met in the grove and Prairie Grove school opened the exercises by singing "I raise the Lord" when Eld. G. W. Harkey was introduced and made an excellent talk to the children, at the close of which all sang "Work for Jesus."

The Rev. S. S. Key was introduced and in a very impressive manner finished up the Dr's subject which was followed by an excellent piece of music by Liberty Grove school, when the exercises were closed by Rev. W. D. Moffit, and the delegates repaired again to the school building to continue their work.

The Association called to order by Vice-President,--Music by the Association. The subject--"What are the duties of parents" was again taken up and the Vice President made a short but excellent talk on the subject, followed by J. M. Tucker and J. W. Shinn.

The subject: "The Model Teacher" was then called and the party assigned this subject being absent, Eld. G. W. Harkey was called and responded in a short but pointed lecture on this subject, and was followed by Rev. W. D. Moffit, J. S. Church, Mrs. Janie Thack and Rev. S. S. Key.

The subject: "Shall we have Township Associations" was called and the party assigned this subject was also absent, and M. H. Baird was called and said in a few words that he favored the Township Association and all other meetings that were calculated to awaken interest and improve the work of the Sabbath schools, followed by J. S. Church.

The sense of the Association was taken upon the question and all heartily favored the Township Associations. Rev. S. S. Key suggested that the members of the Township Association should be all the ministers, superintendents and teachers in the township. Eld. G. W. Harkey believed the meetings should be oftener than once a year. Time for closing having come, a motion prevailed tendering the thanks of the Association to the citizens of Prairie Grove.

On motion the secretary was requested to furnish the proceedings of the meeting to our county paper for publication. The Association then adjourned.

CURE FOR PILES.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he had some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching; after getting warm, is a very common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the part affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price, 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, Ohio. Sold by J. M. Harkey & Bro., and W. S. Hinton, Atkins.
